are thrown open to the public on Monday night a veritable fairy land will have been erected to help the ball club to put Albuquerque on the baseball map for the season of 1914. As you enter the show grounds at First and Central avenue, you will be surprised at the line-up of tented attractions that will fill every inch of the large show grounds. The attractions are all housed in new and novel tented theaters and the management has looked to the comfort of the amusement loving public. Mr. Young, the general agent of the shows, has been in the city for some time to perfect all details for the coming of the shows, the ball club members are all hustlers, and as the boys get a liberal percentage of the receipts, all of the fans ought to get out and boost the ball club along.

SAYS SHE TOOK POISON BUT DOESN'T KNOW WHAT IT WAS

Says from the room of her boarder Mrs. Francisco Perez of North First street, to investigate yesterday afternoon and she found Nette Bergdahl, the occupant, lying on the bed with an empty vial in her hand. The girl said she had taken poison, and intimated that a love affair had been the cause of her act.

The bottle was not labelled, but it smelled of peppermint. A physician was called. He said that there were no symptoms of poisoning, but he administered a strong emetic. The girl seemed to be all right last night, and said she had no intention of swallowing any more poison. She said the bottle she drained was filled with something highly poisonous but she didn't know what it was.

Why worry when a Herald want ad will do it.

LINING 'EM OUT

Consistent guys, these organized ball magnates, say there is no room for a third major league and thus proceed to plan a fourth one.

But the idea appeals to the trouble-makers on the sidelines. It's the logical step in a red-blooded war of re-prisal. What the organized army should do to go at the right thing is to place a crack team right next door to the Fed parks, cut the price of grandstand seats to ten cents, make every
